COMMON QUESTIONS

How many pellets will I go through?

Our rule of thumb is 1kg/hr however it depends on how often you use your heater and what power setting you have it set on!

Where can I buy pellets?

Piazzetta Australia produce their own brand of pellets called Red Hot Pellets and you as a Piazzetta owner have priority access to this supply either directly or through your local Piazzetta dealer. You can also buy pellets from major retailers across Australia.

Do they rely on electricity?

Yes, these heaters need to be plugged into a wall and they consume around 220w whilst running and a max draw of approx. 500w for the initial 15 minutes when everything is running simultaneously.

Will it sufficiently heat my home?

We always encourage customers to bring us their floor plan or a rough idea of how many square metres or cubic metres their home is. This means we can match your cubic metres to the perfect heater so you will never be left in the cold!

Who will maintain my heater?

Your local Piazzetta dealer can offer installation options and maintenance on your heater, however we also have a YouTube channel that shows you how to clean and maintain your heater correctly.
